

The name of "Ojiro(小代)" comes from small(小) fields(代) in this town. As the name shows, Ojiro is a beautiful, full-natured town with a lot of small terraced rice fields. 99.9% of all Japanese black-haired Wagyu cows are the descendent of "Tajiri-go". The closed environment that is surrounded by mountains has grown such great cattles, Tajima-gyu. It is a Mother of well-known beef brands in Japan.

Old tales of Ojiro

A Ueyama terraced rice fields

B A pasture for Tajima cattle

C Legendary site Konagatawa

D View from Nukida area

Since cattles are very delicate, please watch them more than 100 meters away.
